Moa 1.2.6 is out today.

The main new feature is a slideshow, links on any gallery that contains just images. Also we added a template chooser page so you can see visually which templates you would like.

Internally we have had a bit of a refactor to tidy up code that was getting messy. As far as we have been able to tell from testing this hasn't broken anything but don't hesitate to tell us if you find anything not working. Added some bug fixes in as well for older problems.

So go and download it now in the red bit above. Or try the demo in the green bit.

And let us know what you think in the comments.
